

ReGENerate Summer Youth Program Coordinator

MN8 began as a grassroots campaign in August 2016 led by the families of eight Cambodian Minnesotans to prevent their detention and deportation by U.S. Immigration Customs and Enforcement. MN8 has grown through the active participation of Asian American grassroots community organizers and people affected by U.S. detentions and deportations of immigrants, expanding its mission to advocate for all Southeast Asian immigrants and refugees facing unjust detention and deportation. We believe those who are most impacted must have power, voice and resources for change to happen.

POSITION SUMMARY

The ReGENerate Youth program, led by MN8, is part of our initiative to address the cycles of trauma that perpetuate within the Southeast Asian community due to poverty, historical trauma, and racism. It is offered to Southeast Asian youths aged 15 to 18 and living in the greater Twin Cities metropolitan area (including surrounding suburbs). This program is designed to support SEA youths impacted by detention and deportation, however it will be open to all Southeast Asian youths (specifically those who are Khmer, Vietnamese, Lao, Hmong, and Karen).

MN8 ran the pilot program for the first year in 2021 and is excited to run this program again in 2022, especially because of the positive feedback we received from 2021 student participants.

The program is a space for youths to learn and heal with each other. We believe that when our youths are given the right resources, they will be empowered, becoming catalysts for change and leaders in the community. Programming includes topics such as personal identity, trauma and healing, healthy relationships with family members, friends, and romantic partners, organizing, and civic engagement.

We anticipate that 2022's programming will occur over the course of August. Each week, the cohort (up to 15 students) will meet twice a week. The exact days of the week are up to the coordinator who is hired to choose.
